CATCHING UP---Two young servicemen who grew up across the street (Cherry Lane) from each other in Campbell share their hometown newspaper on top of a hill in Vietnam. That's SP/4 Duane Peterson (left) and 1st Lt Allan Corral reading The Campbell Press. They went all through grade and high school in Campbell and then five years later were assigned to the same location in Vietnam.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THIS NEWSPAPER HAS received what we consider undeserved plaudits for the news story and pictures that were published in last week's issue concerning the gift of a large van to the Campbell police department by the San Jose Mercury-News combine.

The story reported that Police Chief John Morgan hoped to expand the police community service program by reaching more residents through this mobile unit.

As no money has been budgeted for this addition, Morgan has to be dependent on volunteers and contributions to get it rolling.

It is Chief Morgan's novel approach to complement a program that has already proved its worth.

He's not exactly sure how it will be used yet. But it is a start. The Press has been complimented for being "so big" as to publicize the contribution made by another newspaper, i. e. the gift of a 12-foot GMC van that has been used since 1961 by the circulation department of Merc-News.

This newspaper is always willing to take bows when its efforts to promote civic improvement projects are recognized.

But in this case, we don't think too much of a "bow" is warranted.

We think it was great for the San Jose Mercury-News combine to help out Campbell with this gift of the van. We are sure that John Morgan will put it to good use for the benefit of the community as a whole. And that is what counts.

And we really weren't being "big" about mentioning the Merc-News donation.

After all that nationwide multi-newspaper operation of the Ridder family should really not be considered "competition" (we hope) to the provincial one-paper operation of the Vierhus family in Campbell.

They play in an entirely different league.

We are happy to see 'em help out Campbell and the Merc-News will get a lot of community-relationship mileage out of that eight-year old truck.

We couldn't compete with a contribution of the same magnitude, even if we wanted to.

But to give you an idea that we are willing to be 'competitive' in this thing we have offered the Campbell police department a beat-up bike that we have had on hand for some time.

That sorta gives you an idea of the leagues we play in).

We doubt if John's outfit wants that bike.

Its ancestry is a little vague.

We picked it up at one of the semi-annual auctions of the local police department.

AS LONG AS WE ARE talking about "bigness", that brings to mind that $9½ million budget adopted by the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

As one who gets panicky whenever anything more than a $1000 figure is discussed because of our unfamiliarity with such goings-on, in the higher brackets, we must admit that 9½-million bucks is something that we hardly can fathom.

But thanks to Neal Royer, the school district superintendent who must deal in such astronomical figures, we picked up a couple of fiscal tidbits from that $9.5 million job that we seem to get a sadistic pleasure in mulling around a bit.

Hold onto your chairs. This could really grab you and maybe give you an idea just how big the school district operations really is:

The phone bill for the district is estimated at $20,000 per year!

The district will pay PG&E

'Windfalls' increase city reserves

City Manager recommends no increase in general tax rate

Two unexpected windfalls, 1) a larger increase in assessed valuation than had been anticipated and 2) an additional sales tax check of $20,000 that was "found" in Sacramento will allow the City of Campbell to hold the line on the tax rate this year and still maintain an adequate balance in the reserve fund, according to City Manager Bob Stephens.

Stephens will make his recommendations to the City Council next Monday, Aug. 25, when the Council is scheduled to adopt the final budget for the 1969-70 fiscal year and set the tax rate.

Stephens has indicated that it will be possible because of the city's healthy fiscal position to increase the city's set reserve, established at $50,000, to $60,000 and to "restore" about $40,000 of items on a priority basis that had been eliminated when the tentative budget was adopted in June.

According to Stephens, the anticipated reserve also allows for $100,000 to be allocated for capital improvements.

Although preliminary budget estimates were based on $1.09 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate (a hike of two cents), Stephens feels that the $1.07 rate is adequate under the circumstances.

If the City Council follows the city manager's recommendation, the tax rate then will remain at $1.07, the same as it has been for the past nine years. The bond redemption will be 60-cents.

Some councilmen, however, have indicated that a two-cent hike in the general tax rate which would raise an additional $10,000 would be a practical approach to the city's fiscal activities.

During the last year (68-69), property tax revenue for the city totalled $469,232. Stephens and Geoffrey Whitaker, city finance director, have estimated that the property tax revenue this year will go to $541,000. In the 1967-68, the property tax revenue was $452,449.

Sales Tax revenue this year came to $548,383 compared to $492,517 in the previous year. It is estimated that the sales tax will increase to $575,-000 during the current year.

Although the increase in the assessed valuation of the city far, far exceeded the prior

Gomes Ranch complex gets Planners okay

A 17-space parking lot on the proposed Gomes Ranch development was "transformed" into a mini-park, sort of, via "Roberts Rules of Order" Monday night when the huge apartment complex received the blessing of the Planning Commission.

Although the Planning Commission made local history in approving the largest (780 units) and most costly apartment complex in this city's annals, the overflow crowd that jammed the council chambers was not present for that particular historical occasion.

The people present were concerned with the proposed land-use plans for the so-called White Oaks-Bascom area that were presented by both the county and city at the meeting.

In fact, representatives of Anthony C. Morici and John DeManto, developers of the former 26-acre Gomes Ranch between Hamilton and Latimer, agreed to wait until the White Oaks-Bascom matter had been completed before presenting their case for what is estimated to be a $12½-million project, including the commercial area.

Although Commissioner Jack Healey questioned the density that was planned for the apartment (39.7 per acre instead of 35 per acre as called by the master plan), the plans for the project, of which 63% will be open space with 10 acres of landscaping, received favorable reaction from the commissioners right down the line.

Except when it came to the jog in the proposed Third St. extension. (Third St. will be extended from Latimer to Hamilton.)

The jog formed a triangular area at Latimer, separated from the main complex by the new Third St. The developers had proposed this off-site area be used as parking lot with 17 spaces.

Commissioner Dale Scott suggested that it would be better to landscape the area than make it into a parking lot that could mean a policing problem involving West Valley College students.

Eventually Scott's suggestion led to Roberts Rules of Order being invoked.

Commissioner Merrill Grim made the motion (seconded by Commissioner Thayer Lyons), to approve the plans as presented including the 17-space parking lot. But Grim refused to allow the modification proposed by Scott as part of his motion.

Scott then moved to amend

Two Campbell servicemen, raised on same street, have "get-together" on Vietnam mountaintop

On top of a mountain in Vietnam may not be the best spot in the world to reminisce about their home town of Campbell where they had lived across the street (on Cherry Lane) from each other since 1952 but then Allan Corral and Duane Peterson really didn't have much choice in the selection of the spot.

The Army did it for them.

By one of those strange quirks of Army assignments that defies any sort of figuring odds, two Campbell young men who started grade school together and were graduated in the same Campbell High School class (1964) found themselves in Vietnam on the same hill attached to the same outfit.

The odds of such a coincidental meeting appear almost astronomical when it is estimated that approximately 500,000 American troops are now in Vietnam despite current "withdrawals".

That hill in Vietnam must appear a long way away from Cherry Lane in Campbell to 1st Lt. Allan Corral, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corral of 137 Cherry Lane and SP/4 Duane Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peterson of 138 Cherry Lane.

But they report that they do keep up with their home town happenings through The Campbell Press which they receive regularly (as the accompanying picture taken on the mountain top indicates).

Both young men, incidentally, were carriers for The Press while attending Cherry Lane School and Campbell Grammar School.

The Corrals moved to their Cherry Lane residence in 1952 just after Corral, who had served in World War II as a bombardier, had just returned from a tour of duty in Korea. Allan's brother, Mike, 20, recently completed active duty training at the Naval Air Station in Hawaii.

The Petersons have lived on Cherry Lane since 1947 and Duane's two sisters, Judy and Carol and his younger brother, Craig, still live there with their parents.

After graduating from Campbell High in 1964, Duane attended Humboldt State and Allan went to West Valley College and San Jose State.

Both were drafted into the service, Allan in 1967 and Duane in 1968.

Peterson's basic training was completed at Ft. Lewis, Wash. and Allan took his at Ft. Jackson, S.C. and then went on to OCS at Ft. Gordon where he was commissioned in the Signal Corps.

Lt. Corral, who was married to the former Sharon Steinhauer, of Birmingham, Ala. in July, 1968, had received his orders to go to Vietnam just before visiting his parents here last Christmas.

It was at that time, he also learned from the Petersons that Duane was already in Vietnam.

In checking his orders Lt. Corral then realized that he was being ordered to almost the same location where his long-time friend was on assignment.

Thus it was that in January of this year, the two Campbell youths, who had grown up together but had gone their separate ways since their high school graduation, met on a mountaintop in Vietnam where SP/4 Peterson's unit was attached to Lt. Corral's unit for operational control.

DIFFERENT SETTING---Two young members of the bubblegum set of Campbell pose beside a giant sunflower (?) in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corral, 137 Cherry Lane. That's Allan Corral (on the left) with Duane Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peterson, of 138 Cherry Lane, who lived across the street. The picture was taken in 1955.

The Corrals and Petersons still live on Cherry Lane but the two youths graduated from Campbell High in 1964 and now have a temporary Vietnam address. They were assigned to the same unit after going their separate ways since their high school days.

THE YEAR-OF-THE-BIG-SNOW---Three young Campbell High School youths pose beside a snowman built (1962) as a joint neighborhood project. That's Mike Corral (left) and his brother Allan (right), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corral, 137 Cherry Lane Ave. In the center is Duane Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peterson, of 138 Cherry Lane. Since early this year Allan and Duane have been assigned to the same unit in the same location in Vietnam. Mike is also in the service on a reserve status.

Building slump continues in city

Although commerical building in Campbell for the first seven months this year is running ahead of 1968 by more than $2 million, almost every other construction category is lagging far behind, except for swimming pools, according to the report of Wally Byron, city building official.

This year so far there have been 15 permits issued for swimming pools for $51,200 while last year by this time only 10 permits had been taken out for $32,100.

But new construction of all types in Campbell came to a virtual standstill during July, according to Byron's monthly report.

Only three permits for new construction, (all for commercial uses), were issued for July for a total of $38,284, one of the poorest month on record for the building department.

Heading the list was the permit to Ira Brotzman for $30,000 for a car wash operation at Kennedy and Winchester. The other two permits for $1,984 and $6,300 were taken out by Eugene Leroy for retail outlets at 1325-45 Hacienda.

More than 1500 apartment units have received preliminary city approval this year, but relatively few have been processed for building permits, according to Byron.

Because of 18-story office building, "The Towers", getting under way this year, the total for permits for commercial buildings is $2,219,966 ahead of last year. But single-family dwelling construction in Campbell has almost been non-existent this year, Byron observes.

For example through July last year there had been 108 permits issued for single-family dwellings for a total of $2,295,391.

For the same period this year, there have been only two such permits for a total of $47,728; down by more than $2 million!

And duplexes and multiples this year have also been on the skids.

Through July last year there have been 37 permits issued in that category for $1,318,112 compared to only 13 this year for $662,307, or a decrease of $655,805.

In industrial building, the decrease has been $376,199.

And there has even been a slight decline in the alterations and addition division, $246,982 last year compared to $213,866 this year.

An increase of $1000 in demolition permits were recorded this year, $1800 to $800.

BB gun user breaks windows

A vandal with a BB gun did $500 worth of damage to windows of busses, trucks and the office of the Campbell Union School District maintenance yard at 240 N. Harrison last week. The damage occurred in the early morning hours.

A young "hippie type" man helped himself to $70 in cash from the Hudson Service Station, 155 S. Winchester Blvd. late Wednesday night after holding what felt like a knife blade to the neck of Lloyd Guilliee, manager, who was alone in the office at the time.

Four bikes were found at the Rolling Hills School and are being held for identification at the Campbell Police Department.

Editorial

A dilemma

By this time next year, if everything goes as per schedule, the City of Campbell should have a brand new city hall and a new library.

Funds for the construction of the civic center complex, as most of you are aware, are derived from the bond issue that was approved by the citizens of this city in October, 1967.

The total bond issue approved in October, 1967 was $2,600,000. Of that amount $400,000 was specified for the library building and $835,000 for the city hall.

The library building will be constructed by the city and then leased to the county library district of which Campbell is a part and for which a special county library tax is levied.

Since the passage of the bond issue, additional federal funds have been assured thus allowing for a library of a greater size than first anticipated.

That also meant that additional space was needed and that the library would not be an integral part of the city hall complex but would be separated.

The new city hall will be located on a 2½-acre site just north and east of the present city hall, the converted church built before the turn of the century and used by the city since 1956. The city hall will be bounded by First, Grant, Central and the proposed north loop street between Central and First.

The library will be located across Central on a 1½ acre parcel between Central and Harrison.

All the necessary land has been acquired and cleared for the city hall building. The city is negotiating for the acquisition of the property needed for the library.

The civic center complex is thus a sure thing.

As a matter of fact, Bill Hedley, the architect for the project, in cooperation with city officials and department heads, has worked out a tentative floor plan for the city hall, specifying the location of the various offices and the amount of floor space that is required.

Therefore, it has been pretty much decided how space is needed and what the floor plan will be.

But there are a number of problems that have arisen, stemming, as you might guess, from that so-called root of all evil, money.

Or the lack of same, might be the proper way of putting it.

Spiraling costs since the bond issue was passed in October, 1967, obviously have meant that construction estimates have had to be pushed upwards and thus the problem of what type of city hall should be or can be built with the dough on hand becomes acute.

And that is the dilemma in which the city councilmen now find themselves.

Rough estimates suggest at the present time that the city is about $150,000 short, based on current estimates of the cost for the construction (and land acquisition) of the civic center complex that is proposed.

Although no elevation or design of the complex has yet been approved, the architect has warned, however, that certain building designs that originally might have been desired esthetically speaking, should not be considered because of the expense involved, unless the city is prepared to increase the estimated deficit.

Obviously there are alternatives to the situation.

The space requirements, for example, could be arbitrarily reduced and a much smaller city hall be constructed. The problem with that concept, of course, is that a city hall is not a temporary structure and to build an inadequate complex at the start hardly makes sense.

We do not think then that any useful purpose will be served by reducing the floor space.

We do think, however, that there can be a number of other savings made that could substantially reduce the costs.

We hold that it is more important to construct the building of the needed size in floor space than to furnish it completely.

We note that it is estimated that new furnishings are estimated to cost $91,000. We think a long, hard look should be taken of that item and then weigh adequate floor space against a plush interior.

We also sincerely believe that, despite the need for reducing the construction costs, the design of the building is also of extreme importance.

The community needs a structure of which its citizens can be proud, something more than just four walls and a roof.

We have confidence, however, in both Architect Hedley and the city administration and despite their financial plight we are convinced that our civic center complex will not be shoddy.

We recognize the dilemma in which the city councilmen now find themselves.

That is, how to put up an attractive civic center with adequate floor space but with inadequate financing.

We are certain they would welcome suggestions.

$76,000 for gas, lights and power!

And the water bill runs $45,000 per year!

Teachers' salaries will take $4,375,998 of the total budget.

It also costs $20,000 for the district to dispose of its garbage and trash for one year.

We wish we could add something momentous to all this.

But we are way out of our depth.

SOME OF YOU MAY RE-call that we reported here there was some stumbling in the name-calling department when the City Council convened for the first time last month as the newly-formed City of Campbell Redevelopment Agency.

You see, although the councilmen form the governing board of the agency, they are not acting as councilmen when they meet.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan was corrected when out of habit she called them "councilmen" in calling the roll.

But no one was sure just what they should be called.

We are indebted to our sister-in-law, Opal Grimes, an executive with the housing authority in Fresno, for some slight clarification of this problem, at least from Fresno point of view.

"Dear George," a note from Opal reads, "To help solve your problem as to what to call Redevelopment commissioners–they are known as "Agency Members". Housing Authority officials are known as "Commissioners".

"Don't know what the difference is, but that is what they are called".

So now Dorothy Trevethan knows what they do in Fresno. "Agency Member Chamberlin", "Agency Member Smeed".....et al.

That may be correct but it still sounds awkward..

We will stick to just plain, Homer, Dean, Ed, Bill, and Ralph.

It's alot less involved that-away.

But we guess that would never do officially.

Prestige and protcol and all that being what it is.

BY COINCIDENCE IN the same mail this week were brochures representing both sides of this cigarette smoking thing.

One announced the "5-day plan to stop smoking" which is scheduled at the San Jose Hospital auditorium Sunday Aug. 24 through Aug. 28 nightly from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The Seventh-day Adventist Church is the instigator of this program.

On the cover was the question" Did YOU know that most people can stop smoking far easier than they thought possible?"

Two other pamphlets covered the other side of the burning issue. They were prepared and distributed by The American Tobacco Company.

One was entitled, "The other side of the cigarette controversy" and the other "A Congressman looks at the cigarette question".

In "the other side", a group of doctors issue statements questioning the conclusion that cigarette causes cancer.

In the other booklet, a U. S. representative from North Carolina concedes that "Congress has the duty to warn the American people of dangers to their health, whether arising from tobacco or any other product.

But he adds, "It also has the duty to not go beyond the facts in doing this."

In conclusion he wraps up his case with the admonition, "Let's get the facts and stop the propaganda."

So there you are.

Or where are you?

LAST WEEK WE SUG-gested that we would be willing to publish a feature in The Press called "WHAT'S THE QUESTION?"

The idea would be that those of you who had something that was bugging you you would send in your question. We would scout around to see if we could find an answer to it.

The questions, of course, would be of a local nature involving schools, city hall and stuff like that.

So far we have had no problems with finding answers.

There have been no questions submitted.

ONE OF THE READERS of this sheet called in this past week to compliment The Press for the story about the two teen-age bike riders from this area, Mac Morris, Jr. and Jay Morris, Jr., who recently completed a 1500 bike trip from the Canadian border to Campbell.

He thought is was a great story.

We don't get as many calls of that nature as often as we would like.

We thought it was worth mentioning.

Homeowners, vets get second grab at tax relief

Homeowners and war vets who missed an earlier chance for property tax relief may get a second chance if they hurry.

The State Legislature has approved reopening until Sept. 1 the deadlines for persons to apply for the $70 refund on 1968 property taxes and/or a reduction in the 1969 taxes. The Bill is now on the Governor's desk for signature.

Those who are eligible must meet several conditions.

First they must have owned and lived in a home, a duplex or a condominium apartment on March 1 of the year for which they are filing the claim.

A veteran may file for a homeowner's reduction on his 1969 tax bill if he filed a claim for a veteran's exemption and his claim was denied.

A homeowner (non-veteran) may apply for the $70 refund for 1968 if he filed an application for the 1969 tax exemption but failed to file a 1968 claim.

Likewise, someone who claimed the $70 tax refund for 1968 and forgot to claim the 1969 exemption may file under the new law.

To qualify for this late filing the homeowner must have owned and lived in his home, duplex or condominium apartment on March 1 of both 1968 and 1969.

The State Legislature decided to act after receiving complaints that veterans who had lost the vet's exemption did not know they could have applied for the homeowners' exemption and that many homeowners were confused by the similarity of the 1968 and 1969 applications.

Persons interested in filing the claims, if they do not have the application forms, should contact the County Assessor's Office, Exemption Division, 200 W. Hedding St. (in the basement), San Jose 95110. The new law states that an application must be returned to the office by Monday, Sept. 1, at 5 p.m., or postmarked by that date.

He is remaining at Lackland for training as a security policeman. Airman Turrubiate, a 1968 graduate of Westmont High School, attended West Valley College.

Sakazaki takes over car care center business

Larry Sakazaki, formerly owner-operator of Larry's Sunnyoaks Shell Service, has acquired the Campbell Car Care Center at 2250 Winchester Blvd. The new business venture will operate under the name of Tire Service Co., Sakazaki said, and will feature both automobile and truck tires.

Three major lines of tires will be featured, Michelin, Delta and Victorian. A special added feature of interest to truck operators will be road service for truck tires, Sakazaki said.

Larry was graduated from James Lick High School in the East Valley and still owns a home in the Mt. Pleasant area. He now resides with his wife, two daughters and his son at their new home on Greenbrier Avenue.

The discrepancy in the sales tax situation was uncovered the city auditors and state Board of Equalization officers affirmed the fact that an uncashed warrant for Campbell of $20,000 was on hand in their office.

It was indicated that the warrant had been missent or lost in transit.

Items that may be "restored" by the City Council on Monday could include the addition of personnel to the fire, police and public works departments. In addition, some needed pieces of equipment may be put back in.

The City Council at next Monday's meeting is scheduled to convene as the City of Campbell Redevelopment Agency for the second monthly meeting of that body. Councilman Ed Rogers, who was absent at the first meeting, will be sworn in as an agency member.

The Agency may take action on the appointment of a citizen advisory committee before adjourning and reconvening as a City Council.

At Monday's meeting, the councilmen are expected to discuss the formation of a Youth Commission and possibly set up the procedure for such a body.

Howard Campen, county administrator, is also scheduled to appear before the City Council next Monday to ask for the city's official support in the countywide bond issue set for Sept. 16.

Bill Wren, public works director and traffic engineer, is scheduled to recommend that a stop sign be placed at Whitwood Drive and Fulton as had been requested by petitioners.

Grim's motion to make the parking lot into a mini-park. Commissioner Jack Healey seconded it.

And that's when "Roberts Rules of Order" got into the picture.

Chairman Ed Pack thought that the motion should be voted on first before the amendment as did Grim and City Attorney Joe Bonacina–at first.

It was finally ruled, however, as "Roberts Rules of Order" has long specified, that the amendment vote should come first.

By a 4-2 vote then (Grim and Pack dissenting and Scott, Lyons, Klein and Healey favoring) the "Scott amendment" was approved and the parking lot became a park, sort of. (It was agreed that the complex would get a "credit" of 17 parking spaces in the commercial portion of the development.)

The White Oaks-Bascom portion of the Planning Commission meeting was a double-barreled affair with Bob Sturdivant and Luke Stamos of the County Planning Department presenting the county study and Art Kee, the city planning director, reporting on the city side.

The county report included 490 acres, bounded by Camden Ave. on the north, Jacksol on the east, Branham Lane on the south and Highway 17 on the west. The city was concerned with just that area west of Bascom.

Booklets containing the county study were distributed to the crowd. The study showed the existing land use, compared to existing zone and the proposed land use.

For example, there are 110 acres commercially zoned now, the report shows, but only 11 acres are being used in that manner. The report suggests 90 commercial acres.

The report also suggests that the present 162 acres now used for agricultural purposes will be eliminated.

The city land-use plan for the area was similar to the county's excet county's except the city has suggested that White Oaks become a cul-de-sac.

Following the presentation of the two reports, the official public hearing was held on the city's specific land use plan for the area and then the plan was officially adopted.

In a related matter, the Commission also approved prezoning of the property in the area along Shelley and Bascom that is now in the process of being annexed to the City.

In other actions, they approved the plans for a warehouse submitted by F. R. Thornton at 354 McGlincey and deferred until Sept. 2 actions on approval of the plans for a 164-unit apartment complex at 540 W. Latimer and on the application for approval of a sign for "Mr. Fantasy" at 381 E. Campbell.

Approved also was the application for a towing service operation and storage for Dick's Automotive Center at 950 McGlincey.

The request of Jack Carnett for extension of the time limit on the 40-acre apartment complex at 260 N. San Tomas was approved and Merrill Grim was appointed to the committee that will screen landscape architect applicants for the Rincon Park design.

GROUNDBREAKING--Mayor Homer Hyde of Campbell (center) flanked by Desmond Kelly (right) of Colonial Savings and John J. Wuerthner, executive vice-president, jointly handled the shovel last Friday afternoon at the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Colonial Savings building at 1510 S. Winchester, near Hamilton.

Construction on the 6,000 square-foot building began this week and completion is expected early in 1970. Jim Schafer, manager of the local office, said that his company will continue its operation in the temporary quarters until the new building is completed.

Colonial Savings will have assets of $110,000,000 and seven offices from Campbell to Novato when pending acquisitions are completed.

Y. E. S. PROGRAM A SUCCESS

I want to use this space this month to thank publicly the many people who made this summer's program a real success. As of August 14, 150 Campbell teenagers had been placed in jobs during the summer.

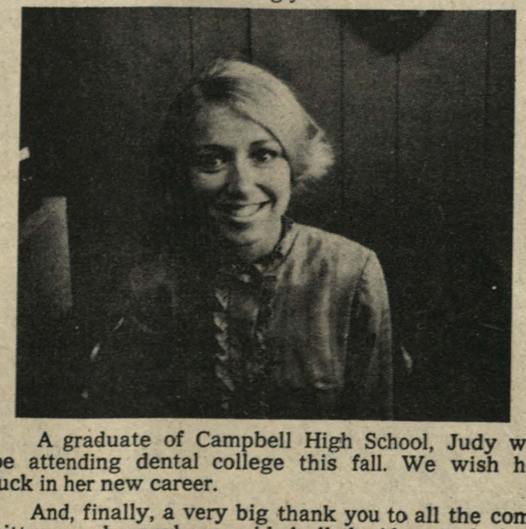
Our thanks go to many. Foremost are the following business places which hired students during the summer:

A & W Root Beer
Anastasia's Gymn
Bank of America
Behavioral Sciences
Bill's Douglas Station
Campbell High School
Campbell Press
Campbell Properties
Campbell Water Company
Chappell Richfield
City of Campbell
County Sanitation Dist. No. 4
First Valley Bank
Helm of Sun Valley
Jumpin Bean Restaurant
Kopper Kettle Donut
Pacific Telephone
Plaza Theaters
Pyramid Van Lines
Sherwin Williams Paint
U-Save Rockery
West Tech. Machinery

Our thanks also go to the many, many people who hired teenagers to babysit, to care for lawns, to help with hauling jobs, and to do the dozens of odd jobs that came up during the summer.

We also wish to thank the Campbell Press and the other news media in the area for their continual support. Without their assistance, many Campbell residents would not have known about the program.

One of the biggest reasons for the success of the program was the leadership provided by our student director, Judy Rothwell. Among many other duties, Judy had the difficult job of sifting through 400 applications to find just the right person for each job. I think she did an outstanding job.



A graduate of Campbell High School, Judy will be attending dental college this fall. We wish her luck in her new career.

And, finally, a very big thank you to all the committee members who provided all the ideas and plans for the program this year. Working on the committee were: Gene Borden, Dean Chamberlin, Len Edholm, Dr. Wally Hall, Carl Kuhn, Ken Mantle, Fred Peterson, Neal Royer, Bob Stephens, George Vierhus, Jeanette Watson, Dick Davis, Ralph Weymouth, Dave Finch, and Jim O'Brien.

Local seniors active in fair

Senior Citizens Day at the Santa Clara County Fair will discover many Campbell residents taking an active part in the program which will be presented in connection with the selection of the Senior King and Queen and two princesses, completing the Fair's Royal Family, who will serve as official hosts.

Selection of the senior royalty will take place on Wednesday, Aug. 20 at 4 p.m. followed by a musical program M.C'eed by Ebb Bohn, former "Cheery Farmer" who is also the Campbell Orchard City Grange lecturer.

As part of the program Ebb, a former member of the 1930 Roy Rogers and Sons of the Pioneers group, will sing their trademark song "Tumbling Tumbleweeds", and other selections familiar to the senior citizen group. Accompanying him on the piano will be Mildred Tippett, a concert pianist who is also musician for the Santa Clara County Pomona Grange and a Campbell Grange member.

Other local grange members who will be on the program are Barbara and Charles Carter singing early twenties numbers while Mrs. Jonnie McFall, 79, and Adrian McMahan, 67, will be the official Orchard City Grange representatives.

Other active seniors will also present a dance, ukelele and banjo numbers.

Senior king and queen contestants must be over 65 years of age, must have grandchildren and must have been active in community service.

Grange women plan month end activities

Members of the Orchard City Grange No. 333 will be active during the last week in August following their participation in the Santa Clara County Fair.

Their regular monthly breakfast, always an event looked forward to by regular patrons, will be held Sunday, Aug. 31 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Grange Hall, 109 N. First St. As usual the public is invited to attend.

A rummage sale will be held Aug. 29 and 30 by the Committee on Women's Activities from 9:30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. on both days. The Grange women have been planning for this event for several months and lots of interesting items will be offered for sale. The Grange Hall will again be the scene of the sale.

Birthday party honors Mrs. Rose Raber

Mrs. Rose Raber, 2191 Cosa Mia Ave., celebrated her 71st birthday on Aug. 12 with a luncheon party and family reunion. Gathering to greet the birthday honoree were sisters and relatives from Union City, Newark, Los Gatos and Campbell.

Following luncheon at the International Restaurant, the ladies reconvened at the Raber home for coffee and birthday cake, made by Mrs. Ann Dias, a niece.

Extending birthday wishes were Mrs. Raber's sisters Mesdames Mary Lewis, Ann Clewett and Emma Nutting; sisters-in-law Mrs. Alice Olivera and Mrs. Hilda Olivera and her nieces Mrs. Mildred Stacy, Mrs. Thelma Garcia and Mrs. Dias.

O.E.S. service club to have rummage sale

A rummage sale will be held Aug. 22 in the IOOF Hall, 276 E. Campbell Ave., by members of the Service Club of the Campbell chapter of the Order of Eastern Star No. 553. The sale will be one of fund raising projects of the group according to Mrs. Bernice Rabehl, president of the active group of women. Clothes, household items and some furniture will be offered for sale. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Double ring ceremony unites Mr. and Mrs. May

MR. AND MRS. TERRY MAY

Four hundred guests were present at the recent wedding of Leslie Laura Anderson and Terry May held at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd. Vows and rings were exchanged before the Revs. Carlson and Anderson.

For her wedding day Leslie chose a silk organza with chantilly lace inserts in the bodice and skirt. Long lace sleeves buttoned with old fashioned buttons and a train attached with a bow at the waist completed the lovely bridal gown. Her triple layer chantilly lace veil was held in place with a crown headpiece that she had worn when she was the honored queen in Bethel 174, Jobs Daughters. For her bouquet she carried a white orchid centered on a Bible.

Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Anderson of 1988 Curtner Ave. She is presently attending San Jose State, and working for a travel agency in Los Gatos. She is also Past Honored Queen of Bethel 174.

Yellow chiffon gowns were worn by the brides' five attendants. Serving as maid of honor was Charleen Perry with the role of matron of honor carried out by Mrs. Linda Sears. The two honor attendants carried yellow roses with tangerine glamilia, while Gail Simi, Debbie Arata and Sheri Smith carried yellow roses and yellow glamelia.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Anderson wore an aqua blue gown trimmed in braided decoration at the neck and down the full length back.

Terry is the son of Morris Mary of 3555 Woodford Drive. He is presently attending West Valley College. For his best man he chose his brother, Roger May, who came from New Jersey for his brother's wedding.

Ushering were Barry Bennett, Herbert Lee, Glenn Anderson and Rick Hardy.

Following the ceremony the newly-weds greeted their friends in the church fellowship hall which was decorated with wedding bells for the occasion.

For her honeymoon trip to Hawaii the new Mrs. May chose a pure silk coat and dress ensemble of yellow polka dots. The newly-weds are now making their home in San Jose.

Mrs. Gilmer plans move to Australia

Mrs. Nellie Gilmer of 1518 Hack Ave., is busy disposing of household items, and closing her home in preparation for leaving for Australia on Sept. 1. Mrs. Gilmer will accompany her daughter, Mrs. Walter K. Barnes, Jr., who arrived from Australia on June 15 to help her mother with the moving chores.

Mrs. Barnes and her husband and two children live on a 12,000 acre cattle ranch in the "outback", located 55 miles north of Darwin, which Mrs. Barnes termed as really not very isolated. The 13 room house can easily accomadate Mrs. Gilmer who will now have the chance to visit with her two grandchildren.

Mrs. Barnes and her husband recently retired after spending the years since World War II in the Philappines and the Orient where Barnes was in the construction business.

THURSDAY MEET

Members of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold their regular business meeting on Aug. 21 at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Mary Federer, 2910 Rosemary Lane.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Trudy Malone, vice president.

Discussion concerning the September barbecue for the auxiliary will be taken up during the meeting.

WARD 6 PARTY

The Past Presidents of The West Valley Auxiliary, American Legion Post 158, will hold their annual party for Ward 6 at the Palo Alto Hospital on Wed. Aug. 20. Home made nut bread will be served and prizes will be awarded to winners of the games played during the evening party.

NEW BABY

Tiffany Diane is the name of the new baby now living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kuhn, assistant Campbell city manager. Little Tiffany arrived on Aug. 5 at 12:40 p.m. at the Kaiser Hospital. She weighed in at 6 lbs. 13½ ounces and was 21 inches long. A first baby, she is keeping Carl and his wife Harriet awake nights at 1800 W. Hacienda Ave.

Engagement revealed

Wedding bells will ring on Sept. 7 for Judy Barbano and Dwight Crossen, it was announced recently by Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Barbano.

The announcement was made at a champagne party for friends and relatives at the Barbano's Rosemary Lane home. The wedding will be held in St. Lucy's church.

Judy was graduated from Campbell High School and West Valley College with an AS degree in medical assisting.

Dwight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crossen of Campbell. An accounting major at West Valley College, he received his high school diploma from Campbell High School. He is presently employed by Food Machinery Corporation.

Adult students at college can register early

Adult students wishing to enroll for night and extended day classes at West Valley College must pick up a permit to register before regular registration Sept. 2 - 4, if they wish to avoid delay during registration, according to Dr. Raymond T. McCall, dean of extended day.

The permit may be obtained at the Admissions and Records office on the Campbell campus during the day or evening hours Monday through Thursday, beginning Aug. 25.

Night students not able to register on the given dates may continue to register up to the second meeting of the class, but must still obtain a permit to register prior to registration.

Evening counseling services will also be available at the Campbell campus after Aug. 25. Students may make appointments for any Monday, Tuesday or Thursday by call- ext. 75.

Evening classes will open on Sept. 10 at five campuses including Blackford and Buchser high schools on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Dartmouth school on Monday and Wednesday nights, and at the Campbell and Saratoga campuses of the college Monday through Thursday, according to McCall.

A full program of required offerings for the A.A. degree is available at each of the above location. Elective subjects are also offered at night on selected campuses.

Day students signing up for evening classes will follow regular enrollment procedures outlined for day students.

WATCH THAT SAWDUST FLY--Arthur Martin, Campbell Fire Department Captain, shows off the style that won him the title of "Bull of the Woods" in the recent Scotts Valley Days lumber jack contest.

Fireman earns "Bull of the Woods" title

"Bull of The Woods", is another name for Arthur Martin, Campbell Fire Department captain who in his spare moments participates in lumber jack contests throughout the state of California. In the recent Scotts Valley Days lumber jack contest Martin gained the "Bull of the Woods" title after placing first in the hot saw and hand chopping, and the ax throwing contests. In 1968 Martin won the state championship in the ax throwing category.

Martin teamed up with Bill Thompson, another Campbell fireman, for the double hand bucking contest and took second place in that category. Thompson didn't do so badly himself having placed third in the hot saw contest.

Martin has been with the local fire department for six years while Thompson joined the department in Jan. 1968.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Even though the House of Representatives has overwhelmingly passed a 368 page bill which weighs 1¼ pounds, the battle over tax reform is far from finished.

Now the action moves to the Senate for what is certain to result in major change. Then the final bill will be ironed out and refined by a conference committee of about a dozen Senators and Representatives.

Like all tax measures the reform bill which cleared the House was considered under a "closed rule". This means that amendments cannot be offered and a bill must be voted up or down in its entirety. As a result House Members who voted "yes" (which I did) had to accept some things they disagreed with. Contrariwise, those who voted "no" were required to vote against things they agreed with. When Chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) of the Ways and Means Committee quipped that the tax reform bill may be "a bullet too hot to bite," he was speaking "more truth than poetry."

A full discussion of what was contained in this complicated bill is impossible in this space. But it can be summarized briefly as a measure which will serve the purpose of lowering income taxes for almost everybody and raising taxes for others including some who currently don't pay anything.

The total tax cut will amount to almost $7 billion by 1972 for an average 5% reduction for all taxpayers. The top tax rates of today which stifle initiative and are almost confiscatory were reduced and rates for those with lower incomes (where the bulk of federal revenue is collected) were substantially reduced. The bill removed 5.2 million taxpayers from the federal rolls and eased the burden on another seven million by raising a family's deductible income. It raised the minimum standard deduction for everyone by allowing an increase in the present 10% or $1,000 to 15% or $2,000.

Single persons got their first break in history and will be allowed part of the tax advantages given married couples who file joint returns. Some of them will now enjoy "Head of Household" status.

There were also tax increases in the reform bill. Interest from municipal bonds, as a practical matter, will be no longer completely tax free. Capital gains deductions have been severly tightened, oil depletion allowances have been cut back, depreciation of real estate property has been toughened, and limitations have been placed on income from gifts to foundations and colleges. Other business deductions will be less liberal.

Though there are some features of the House-passed bill which I oppose, I believe we have made an excellent start toward a long overdue reform of our Internal Revenue Code. Fortunately, the Senate will have the opportunity of fully debating each detail and offering amendments to change them. I am confident that some of the features to which I object will be changed and that the final product of the House-Senate Conference will be a true landmark in tax legislation. I probably won't agree with all of the final bill, but on balance I predict that it will be in the national interest.

OPAL McCLURE

Final services where held Tuesday for Mrs. Opal Rae McClure, 38, who was killed in an auto accident near Grants, New Mexico last week.

Mrs. McClure was thrown from the car driven by her husband, Charles McClure who apparently lost control of the vehicle. The accident occured when the couple were on their way home after visiting relatives in Arkansas.

A native of Binger, Oklahoma, Mrs. McClure has lived in this area for 27 years. They made their home at 820 Sobrato Dr. McClure, who is employed with the contracts department of Goodwill Industries in San Jose, was treated in the Grants hospital for a concussion.

Mrs. McClure was an active member of the Campbell Baptist Church and services were conducted by the Rev. Irwin Weyhe, at the Campbell Memorial Chapel.

Besides her husband she is survived by a son, Victor Ray McClure of Campbell; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Houk of Oklahoma; Mrs. Clara Carney and Mrs. Bessie Carney of San Jose and Mrs. June Howard of Sacramento. She also leaves two brothers, the Rev. Ralph McGee of Arizona and Clyde McGee of Colorado.

Final resting place was in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

LESLIE CARTER, JR.

Funeral services were held last week for Army Spec. 4 Leslie D. Carter, Jr., who was killed in action July 26 in Vietnam. He was a member of the 101st Airborne Division and had been in the service since Dec. 1967.

He was a graduate of Westmont High School and attended West Valley College before entering the service.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Carter of Campbell, Carter also leaves his wife Vivian of San Jose. Other survivors include four brothers, Raymond, David, Ronald and Kenneth, and two sisters, Gloria and Cheryl Carter, all of Campbell.

Services were under the auspices of the Darling, Fischer & Faber's Chapel of the Hill, Los Gatos with final interment in the veteran's plot in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

J. HOWARD PAYNE

J. Howard Payne, who was born at the family home at 3750 Payne Ave. in 1884, passed away Friday, Aug. 15, following a lengthy illness. The son of James F. Payne for whom the avenue was named, Payne had been engaged in the fruit packing business for 60 years. His father had arrived in California in 1850 and worked in the California gold mines before settling in Santa Clara Valley in 1860. His mother was the late Phoebe McClellan Payne whose family had arrived in this area in 1849, McClellan Ave. being named for her family.

Payne was a member of Sunsweet Prune Growers, the Walnut Assn. and a past member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club.

He leaves a sister, Louise Payne of San Jose and six nieces and nephews. Services were held from the Campbell Memorial Chapel with entombment in the Oak Hill Memorial Park.

District 4 drops tax rate for fiscal year

County Sanitation District No. 4 operating budget for fiscal year 1969-70, will be $11,031,200 which allows the reduction of the district's tax $11,031,200 which allows the reduction of the district's tax rate from 24.0 cents to 21.6 cents. The directors of District 4 adopted the budget last week.

The budget includes a $174,000 increase for the District's annual share of the cost of the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant now under design and $18,900 to provide a 9% salary increase for District employees.

The District board of directors was advised that a 15 per cent increase in the assessed valuation of property within the District, instead of an anticipated 5% had been approved.

A previously approved 32% increase in residential sewer service charges more than offset the increased cost of providing waste water collection and disposal service in the West Valley area, the directors also learned.

A tax reduction thus could be made because of those facts, Stephen H. Goodman, District engineer-manager, informed the directors.

Jacobson returns home after year in Arctic

Everett L. Jacobson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jacobson of 245 Ken Circle, will be making his home in the Campbell area following his discharge as a Sergeant from the United States Air Force at the Almadorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska, where he spent the last year of his four years in the service.

Jacobson, who was in office administration, was at the radar station on the Bering Strait, about 100 miles from the Arctic Circle, with the Siberian coast of Russia visible on a clear day 46 miles across the strait.

During the year at the isolated base he found that the biggest excitement came during the springtime when flocks of birds would hit the radar beam, become confused, and then get back in formation to try again, only to become dizzy and confused again. After several attempts to pass the beam in the air, the birds would learn that by getting down on the ground they could "by-pass" the radar beam.

Icebergs floating by and whales, seals and pelicans were their only other visitors during the spring, while summer brought the midnight sun and the melting of the snow, but no vegetation, just hills of rocks.

During the winter the temperatures would dip to 85 degrees below zero and the sun would not be seen for months on end. Only twice in the year Jacobson was stationed in the remote post did he leave, and that was by a trackmaster to a small Eskimo village of Whales, seven miles away.

Jacobson spent his first three years in Abilene, Texas, where he married his wife, Betty, who has been making her home in San Jose during the last year.

Before settling down Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson are visiting with relatives, including Jacobson's sister (Yvonne) and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Katter, in Pasadena and with Betty's relatives in Texas.

MR. and MRS. E. JACOBSON will be making their home in this area.

Seniors must file for tax relief

The filing deadline for 1969 senior citizens property tax assistance claims is Oct. 15, 1969 according to Edward N. Glaeser, county Tax Collector.

The Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law provides for a reimbursement of a portion of property taxes for persons who are over 65 years of age, own and occupy their homes, who have paid their property taxes, and who have a total household income of $3,350 or less.

Last year some 58,000 claimants were paid almost $8 million in assistance, Glaeser said, and the average amount of assistance was $135.

Senior citizens property tax assistance is in addition to the $70 homeowners Property tax relief payment, Glaeser said, and should not be confused with that program. Persons who are over 65 years of age and who can otherwise meet the qualifications of the Senior Citizen Program are entitled to receive the benefits of both programs.

This means that a qualified senior Californian could recieve the $70 from the homeowners property tax relief program and still get an additional check for up to 95% of the balance of his taxes from the senior citizens property tax assistance program.

Qualified individuals can obtain forms from any office of the Franchise Tax Board or by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P. O. Box 1588, Sacramento, California, 95807.

SUICIDE DIES

Mrs. Mary Ann Lino, 33, of Hollbrook Dr., San Jose, died early Tuesday morning after jumping off the railroad right-of-way bridge onto the freeway at the Hamilton Ave. overpass.

Mrs. Lino had been treated earlier at the Valley Medical Hospital and had left before the treatment had been concluded.

Campbell residents still in hospital after Montana accident

Word has been received by Campbell friends that Mrs. A. Simonson and Miss Vondelle Kennedy, 341 Sunnyoaks, are still confined to the hospital following a serious accident suffered May 23. in Ft. Shaw, Montana.

The Campbell residents were in Montana to attend a grandson's graduation exercise when the accident occured. Miss Kennedy, an employee of the Campbell Post Office, suffered both knees broken and a broken jaw. She is now able to walk with the aid of crutches and hopes to be released from the hospital in another month.

Mrs. Simonson will be confined for a long period of time yet while a broken collar bone, arm, hand and ribs on the right side are mending and a badly shattered leg is healing. She would appreciate hearing from her friends and can be reached at Deaconess Hospital, 1101 26th St. Great Falls, Montana, 59401, Rm. 277.

Her husband and brother, Scott Lyman of 276 Christopher Ave., went to Montana following the accident. Simonson is staying on in Great Falls, while Lyman has returned home.

With the Campbell residents at the time of the accident were Mrs. Simonson's son-in-law, Marvin Harrington, who almost lost his right leg in the accident, and three Harrington children who were seriously injured.

Four-H Club

The Campbell 4-H Club held their annual weiner roast recently at the Campbell Park. Stacey Smith, past president, presided over the meeting. Project reports were given and fair exhibits were discussed.

Mrs. Tony Mariani will be the Local Community Leader for next year, replacing Roy Viglieccа, who will stay with the club as an advisor and a Project Leader. Mrs. Bill Chivers will remain as Program Director for a second year.

Nora Smith was chosen to represent the club at Davis and will attend the State 4-H Leadership Conference there Aug. 18 to 22.

READY TO GO—Camp director Polly Mitchel and Red Bell, Vasona park ranger, confer before taking Girl Scouts of Camp No. 44, on a nature hike. The rangers have been adding greatly to the enjoyment of the girls at the day camps and they, in turn, have aided the rangers with regular litter removal campaigns.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

During the Girl Scout Day Camps held at Vasona during the summer vacation days, part of their regular planned activities have included litter campaigns planned to help the rangers at the park in the monumental task of cleaning up the park.

The girls have brought in litter from all parts of the park, and amazingly enough the "junk" includes such things as rusty bicycle wheels, car parts and wine bottles as well as the usual picnic trash left by thoughtless users of the park who enjoy "getting away from it all", and end up leaving part of their "all" behind them.

As a result of Girl Scout participation in helping clean up the park the girls are not only being made more aware of the thoughtlessness of others, and resolve to do better themselves, but it also frees the rangers for other jobs such as repairing broken water fountains which have been deliberately broken off, or disposing of dead ducks shot by users of air rifles.

Henry Gilmeister, head ranger at Vasona and Red Ball have proved most helpful to the Girl Scouts and have assisted in taking the girls on nature hikes. They have also carted back trash found by the girls that was too heavy for them to carry.

PITCHING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP—Verdan Zelmar, local horseshoe pitcher, will be competing in the championship horseshoe pitching tournament to be held this weekend at the County Fairgrounds. Zelmar is seen during a recent competition in the third alley from the left.

Zelmar competes in horseshow state tourney

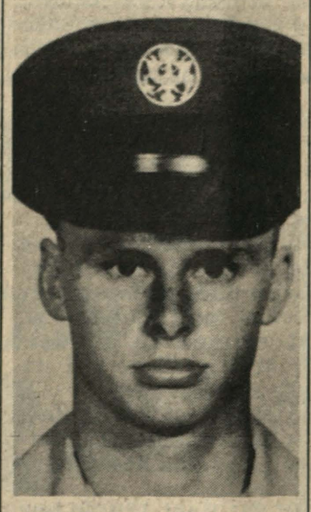
Verdan Zelmar, 2183 Abbey Lane, will be one of the contenders for the California State Horseshoe Pitching men's championship this weekend when the play-offs will be held at the Santa Clara County Fairground's courts.

Qualifying rounds will be conducted Friday, Aug. 22 and Saturday, Aug. 23 with the round robin competition beginning at 1:30 p.m. for the 14 high qualifyers in the men's division. Zelmar will be competing against local pitchers Lloyd Potter, Jesse Gonzales and Tal Turner. The Los Gatos and San Jose Horseshoe clubs will be hosts for the tournament which is open to the public.

IN MISSOURI

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Olson are now making their home in Joplin, Mo. The Olson's formerly lived on Winchester Blvd. in Campbell for nearly 30 years and Olson was the owner of Rex's Drywall, also located on Winchester across from the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center.

INTERNATIONAL GREETING—Joyce Blackmum, 1409 Harriet, gets a truly international greeting in front of the great Hellenstadion sports hall in which a World Youth Congress of the Seventh-day Adventist Church was held last week in Zurich, Switzerland. Arja-Liisa Vapalahti, 21, of Turku, Finland, greets the local resident who attended the giant, five-day conclave along with more than 12,000 young people from nearly 100 countries. Miss Blackmum also has been touring various historic and cultural sites in seven European countries.



COMPLETES BASIC—Airman John M. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson of 440 Shamrock Dr., Campbell, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance. Airman Johnson is a 1967 graduate of Camden High School and attended West Valley College.

Now Dispose Of Backyard Rubbish Without Burning!

Gilson® SHREDDER-GRINDERS

Shredder-Grinders

make low cost natural fertilizer and mulch the easy way

Organic gardening is one of the most economical and productive ways to grow flowers and vegetables. And Gilson Shredder-Grinders make it extra rewarding. Fine shredding action turns clippings, vegetable tops, leaves, and other garden waste into quick-decaying compost or organic matter to till into your soil. Make coarse or fine mulch, too.

These Gilsons have rugged, dependable Briggs & Stratton engines. They're compact, roll easily around your yard. And all models have surprising capacity for their size, plenty of stamina to take hard use.

With the new stricter backyard rubbish burning regulations in effect, why not eliminate this fire hazard in your own backyard by converting your leaves and rubbish into valuable compost for your gardens and flower beds. The Gilson Shredder-Grinder makes quick work of your rubbish pile, no matter how big it is. Best of all, you get natural organic plant food instead of a fire hazard.

Child studies expanded at WVC

Although the Home Economics Department at West Valley College has changed its name to Family Life Science, preparations are still being made for an exceptionally busy fall semester.

Since the opening of its child development center a year ago, the related Nursery School Assistant program has been expanding in all directions. The program is not only fulfilling the needs of the usual daytime student who is preparing for a career in the field of child development, but more and more the program has become the means by which teachers already in jobs can fulfill the requirements of California's Social Welfare Department for formalized education in addition to experience.

Evening classes are held in supervision and administration of the Nursery School, Child Growth and Development and The Child, and Family and Community.

Daytime classes include Creative Crafts for Children, Supervisory Activities in the Nursery School (beginning) and Nursery School Practice (advanced).

Those wishing to enroll in either evening or daytime classes call the West Valley College Admissions office at 379-1733.

Classes will begin Sept. 10 but registration must be completed between Sept. 2 - 4.

A 1961 graduate of Campbell High School, Neujahr was graduated from Stanford in 1965. He plans to enter Yale in Sept. where he will be doing graduate work in philosophy.

BABY DAY

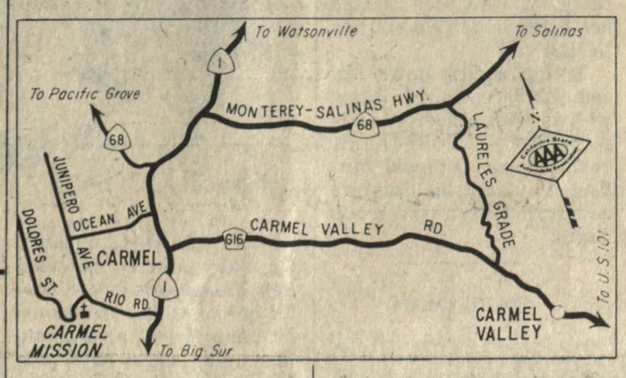
Babies, the 6-months to one-year variety, will have their own special "day" during the Silver Jubilee 25th Anniversary Santa Clara County Fair that ends on Aug. 24.

That day is Saturday, Aug. 23, when at 5 p.m., on Jubilee Stage, toddlers and crawlers from all over the County are invited to participate in Baby Day events.

MOTORCYCLES

In 1965, there were 1,534 motorcycle fatalities in this country.

Tour of picturesque Carmel Valley starts with mission



The chaparral-clad Santa Lucia Mountains hem in this lovely valley through which the Carmel River flows. Farms, orchards, pastureland, picturesque estates and ranch homes lie in the sun-warmed valley where fog is seldom seen although the coast may be cloaked in the white fluff.

A good starting point for a tour of the valley is Mission San Carlos Borromeo del Rio Carmelo, Carmel Mission, which was founded in 1770 in Monterey but moved a year later by its founder, Junipero Serra, to its present site overlooking the Carmel River. Serra is buried here and a beautiful sarcophagus cut from California marble, with a bronze effigy of Serra, and figures of three kneeling and and mourning padres-the work of Jo Mora-are in the memorial mortuary chapel near the entrance to the church.

The church is distinctive among the Franciscan establishments in its architecture; the massive south tower with its outside stairway and its Saracenic dome is exceptional. Noteworthy, too, is the star window in the gable.

As you look eastward through the valley, the mountains pile up one behind the other, a purple haze gathered in their hollows, a calling card urging you on to discover their treasures.

About six miles east from the valley entrance is the Carmel Valley Begonia Gardens which always welcome visitors. Peak blooming season for the flowers is mid-August through early Sept.

A former showplace of the Golden State awaits the traveler if he takes a narrow road on the right about two-and-a-half miles from the valley entrance that twists and climbs past a redwood grove and eventually leads to the 22,000-acre Oppenheimer Ranch, the old Rancho San Carlos. Although the property is private, you can get a good view of the 57-room white hacienda built in 1923 by George Gordon Moore. At one time this gigantic ranch had its own polo field, private airstrip, racetrack and game refuge.

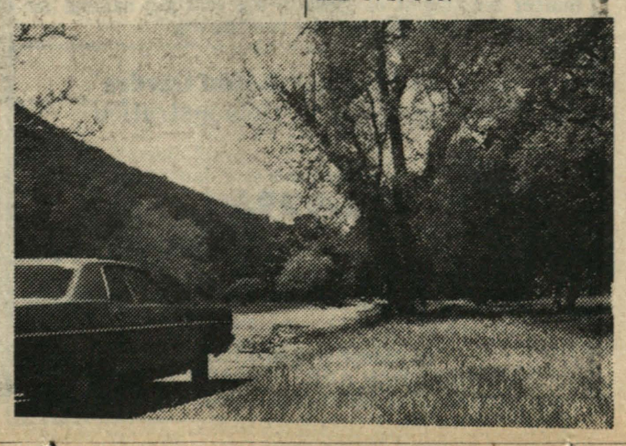
Another side trip of the Carmel Valley Road is out Robinson Canyon Road which crosses the river and runs past pear orchards, cool wooded canyons and redwoods. The old oaks along the route are covered with moss and the fence posts with lichen. About 10 miles in is a meadow with the ruins of four buildings. This is an old goat ranch where author Robert Louis Stevenson supposedly found shelter during one of his epic hikes through this country.

If you're looking for a panoramic view of the valley from the north side, take Ford Road which climbs gradually past a number of homes, meadows of tall grass and wildflowers. Looking downward, you can follow the course of the Carmel River by the willows and green sycamores.

Carmel Valley Village, about 12 miles in, is the business and social center of this highly sophisticated rural community and here you'll find tempting shopping and also a good place to stop for a bite to eat and drink before continuning your trip.

East of Carmel Valley Village the Carmel River turns south and becomes inpounded behind San Clemente Dam (built in 1921). East of the River's southward turn is the intersection of Cachagua Rd. which fringes the Tularcitos Ridge. Sycamores and oaks crowd the valleys and hillsides with many deer making this their home. If you travel here in autumn, you can well imagine it as New England with its yellow maple leaves and flaming poison oak.

Cachagua returns to the Carmel Valley Road (now Tularcitos Rd.) and you can either return to Carmel or continue east to Greenfield and U. S. 101.



Letters to the Editor

Ed. Note:

Reproduced below is the receipt referred to in the letter received from Delpha E. Wiesendanger, long time Campbell community resident. The letter refers to a "Letters to the Editor" published recently in the Campbell Press from her sister, Alice Wiesendanger.

Dear Editor:

My sister, Alice Wiesendanger, has told me of your letter to her relative to the length of time our family has subscribed to "The Campbell Press" and of her reply to you.

In your letter you indicate that your records show that our subscription started on June 6, 1911, "thus making it one of the longest if not the longest on record". Actually our subscription started at least as early as June 21, 1900. I enclose a Verifax copy of a receipt for the "Campbell Weekly Visitor" for June 22, 1900 to June 22, 1901 and for June 23, 1901 to June 23, 1902. These I found recently in some of our father's early records.

Our father and mother were married in Kansas in 1897 and settled at once on a ten acre prune and apricot orchard on the southwest corner of Payne and Phelps Avenue. They were on a rural mail route from Campbell.

I was born in 1898 and of course did not read newspapers for a few years after that but I can remember many times when our mother would say "Oh this is Campbell Press day", as if she were real pleased that the day had arrived. And I remember reading it with pleasure after I had learned to read. I feel quite sure that our subscription was continuous from 1900 to date.

Our parents were active in the Fraternal Aid for many years beginning in the late 1800's. Their meetings were held in the Campbell Odd Fellows Hall. They were active members of the Campbell Grange and my mother received her 50 year pin from the Grange a few years before she died. My father was active in the Campbell Kiwanis Club. My two sisters, my brother and I all graduated from Campbell High School as have several nieces and nephews in more recent years.

We always attended the Old Settlers Day activities including taking our picnic lunch each year to Ainsley's Cannery where we enjoyed the fellowship with many friends.

During my high school days the Campbell Press promoted a "popularity contest" among local girls as a means of increasing the circulation of the Press. Each girl who entered the contest received votes for the subscriptions she was able to bring in; the larger the subscription the greater the number of votes. Local grocery stores also gave votes for varying quantities of groceries purchased. Each contestant garnered in the votes her friends who were not contestants got by this means. The first prize was a piano. I won the piano and so far as I know my niece now has it.

So you see our contact with and appreciation for the Campbell Press really has been of long duration.

My sister sent me your February 26, 1969 issue of the Press which I have saved since it gives so much information that is of interest to me including a reprint of parts of the first issue. I was especially interested of course in the article concerning the publishers of the press through the years. Harry and Mrs. Smith were the publishers at the time of the above mentioned contest so I knew them well and enjoyed them as friends. I was glad to visit with Mrs. Smith briefly a couple of years ago when I attended a meeting of the Country Women's Club with my sister.

Thank you for writing to my sister.

Sincerely yours,
Delpha E. Wiesendanger

THINGS WERE SORT OF STICKY--When the traffic signal at Campbell Ave. and Central failed last Wednesday, the traffic flow became sorta stop-and-go. Flares were placed on the street but the drivers were still pretty much on their own. Officer Dick Wixon, of the Campbell Police Department, was on hand to assist in keeping the traffic (both wheeled and foot) flowing reasonably smoothly as the above photos illustrate.

WVC plans bus service between Campbell - Saratoga campuses

Shuttle bus service between the two campuses (Campbell and Saratoga) of West Valley College will be a reality this fall, after action taken by the board of trustees Thursday night.

Trustees, in addition to voting to begin a shuttle bus service, also voted to provide conditional census tract-to-school bus service for regularly enrolled students in the daytime classes.

Trustees awarded low bidder, Valley Bus Repair and Rental, the shuttle bus service between the campuses. With six runs scheduled each day, the bus will depart the Saratoga campus on the hours and the Campbell campus on the half hour.

The other bus service will be provided to any area consisting of any two contiguous U. S. 1960 Census Tracts which meet all of the following conditions:

1.) are not less than 13.5 miles from the Saratoga campus via the Campbell campus as measured by the most direct public streets

2.) where there is no regularly scheduled public transportation

3.) where there are at least 15 students who will be transported daily, and where at least 30 percent of the households in at least one of the two census tracts have an annual income of less than $4,000 as indicated by the April, 1966 Socio-economic Study made by the Santa Clara County Planning Department, It is expected that the Alviso-Agnew area will benefit from the new policy.

Trustees also approved a district vocational education plan for the coming fiscal year and the application for vocational education in the amount of $95,252 to the federal government.

The vocational plan has four parts: general information as to size, socio-economic features and racial and ethnic composition of the area; goals and objectives of the program; a detailed plan for the immediate program; and a long range program plan.

The board appointed the following as coordinators for the vocational program: Ian Webb, electronics; Wes Kingsley, drafting; Hal Welborn, law enforcement; Mrs. Betty Hendrick, nursing; Mrs. Gwenna Mortesen, family life science; Mrs. Betty Cunningham, work experience education; Woodrow Wilson, data processing; George Miller, real estate; and Tom Devins, food service.

In other action the trustees:

Approved general fund budget of $11,776,371 and a special reserve fund budget of $1,637,944 for 1969-70.

Appointed Mrs. Betty Tusup to serve a second year as assistant to the president.

Awarded Rudolph Watson of Redwood City the landscaping contract for the science and mathematics building at the Saratoga campus in the amount of $82,925.

Awarded bids to 19 vendors, totalling $106,642.-68, for the purchase of science equipment.

Approved a recommendation to lease Buck Shaw stadium for two of the West Valley College 1969 home football games at a total cost of $550 and lease Fiesta Bowling Alley each Tuesday and Thursday at a total cost of $400 for use by physical education classes at the college.

Approved a transfer of $200,000 from the General fund to the special reserve fund.

Approved a recommendation that architects be instructed to begin preliminary plan and cost estimates for four permanent outdoor basketball courts at the Saratoga campus.

Approved a request to the County Board of Supervisors for a temporary transfer of $950,000 from county funds to the college prior to tax apportionments in January. This is usually done each year at this time.

Tabled awarding a bid for transcription equipment pending clarification of certain items in the bid by County Counsel.

Approved an agreement with the State Department of Real Estate for continued financial assistance to the college's Real Estate Education program in the amount of $900 for the current school year.

Made the following appointments: Mrs. Nancy J. Maier, clerk in the engineering-technology division; Mrs. Edythe Bilbao, Mrs. Margaret Poulsen and Mrs. Margaret Provost, typist clerk II positions; Mrs. Ardath R. Hiller, key punch operator; Mrs. Bernice I. Wright, typist clerk in the counseling office; Mrs. Janice M. Cortese, typist clerk in data processing; and Mrs. Effie Robbins, typist clerk in the counseling office.

State-county start new era in mental treatment

On July 1 Santa Clara County--and California as a whole--entered into a new era in the treatment of mental illness.

On that date the new Lanterman-Petris-Short Act, approved at the last session of the State Legislature, took effect. Although the full impact of the new law won't be felt immediately, it's generally agreed among mental health workers its long term effects will be considerable.

PURPOSES

The basic purposes of the new law are two-fold:

1. To increase the use of local "in the community" mental health facilities, and, at the same time, to decrease the use of the present state hospital system.

2. To strengthen the personal rights of mental patients during and after treatment.

One of the most important parts of the new and complicated law is a drastic change in the commitment procedures for "involuntary patients," that is, those who do not seek or will not accept treatment.

No longer will such patients be admitted directly to the state hospital system. No longer will peace officers be able to take such persons directly to Agnew and have them committed.

Instead, the new law provided that both involuntary and voluntary patients must first be screened at one of a number of community health facilities.

Even if a patient refuses treatment after this first contact with psychiatric facilities, he still cannot be committed to a treatment facility except for specified lengths of time, and only if he is considered dangerous to himself or others or unable to care for himself because of mental illness.

TREATMENT

The first treatment period is an initial 72 hours during which he is examined and a specific course of treatment is recommended.

Thereafter, one period of treatment of 14 days follows. This cannot begin, however, without evaluation and certifications that involuntary treatment is required. An additional 14-day period is available for suicidal patients.

The 14-day period may be followed by a 90-day period of treatment for patients who continue to refuse voluntary treatment and who are dangerous to others. This can be accomplished only through the court after determination that additional treatment is needed.

An additional provision of the new law provides that a person may be treated involuntarily if he is what the law calls "gravely disabled". The law defines this to mean a person who is incapable of either feeding or clothing himself.

Campbell-Moreland Pony League completes successful season

CAMPBELL-MORELAND PONY LEAGUE ALL-STARS--For the third consecutive year, the Campbell-Moreland Pony League All-Stars took part in the regional playoffs in Price, Utah. Five teams, Arcade of Sacramento; Carbon, Utah; Moses Lake, Washington and Bountiful, Utah and the local group, took part in the two-game elimination tournament.

Campbell-Moreland lost to Arcade (the tourney winner) in the semi-finals (7-3) and also in the first battle (4-0). The locals beat Moses Lake, Washington, 7-0 in the second game. Jeff Mason, on the mound for C-M in the first game, allowed only three hits and had 10 strikeouts. He was relieved by Gary Haney in the seventh who struck out four men (one reached first on a passed ball). The locals outhit Arcade but could not get any hits when they counted.

C-M easily downed Moses Lake in the second game behind the pitching of Leon Mondragon who allowed only three hits.

Steve Judd, Pat Van Sambeek and Jeff Mason all did well at the plate.

The loss to Arcade of Sacramento 7-3 in the third game of the tourney put the locals out of the running for the regional crown. C-M started out in great style at the plate with Scott Skillman and Scott Sims hitting back-to-back home runs. However, the only other run was scored in the fifth when Gary Haney drove it in with a double. Three hurlers, Scott Skillman, Gary Haney and Randy Hagen, were unable to stop Arcade.

Pat Van Sambeek, the C-M catcher, played a stellar role in all three games.

GOOD PITCHING --- Leon Mondragon, pitcher for the Campbell-Moreland Pony League All-Stars, allowed only three hits and struck out nine in the regional tournament in Price, Utah, against Moses Lake, Washington.

GOOD CATCHING---Pat Van Sambeek did an outstanding job behind the plate for the Campbell-Moreland Pony League All-Stars in the regional tourney in Utah.

West Valley College revamps physical education department

West Valley College's physical education department will have a new look when school gets underway in September.

In a reorganizational move, due to an expanding program, the single position of athletic director-department chairman has been split in two. Wayne Clay, who formerly handled both functions, will devote full time attention to his duties as chairman of the Physical Education Department.

Larry Jennings, basketball coach for two years, has become the director of intramurals and basketball coach.

Previous to his college tenure, Jennings taught and coached varsity basketball at San Juan (Sacramento), Cordova (Rancho Cordova), Folsom and Del Oro (Loomis) high schools. His varsity teams at Folsom and Cordova both walked off with their respective league championships.

He received his B.A. from Michigan State University in 1958, where he played on two "Big Ten" basketball championship teams. He received his master's degree in June, 1966, from Sacramento State.

Jennings is married and resides with his wife, Barbara, and five children in Aptos.

Other changes in the department will include reassignment of the assistant basketball coach to head coaching duties and appointment of four new staff members to assistant coaching positions.

Head baseball coaching duties this year will fall to Steve Bordi, who came to West Valley College last fall as the assistant baseball coach.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkeley in 1961, Bordi played outfield for four years at Cal. He returned to Berkeley after his graduation to coach junior varsity baseball.

LARRY JENNINGS
-athletic director

In 1962 he returned to his high school alma mater, Mt. Diablo, as varsity baseball coach, where he remained until coming to West Valley in 1968.

Bordi received his master's from San Francisco State in January, 1968. He and his wife, Gail, will be residing with their three daughters in Los Gatos.

Don Peckham is the new director of intramurals and will also coach gymnastics. The 42-year-old Peckham has taught in the Campbell Union School District for the past 13 years, seven at Campbell Grammar School and the last six as junior high school physical education teacher at Rolling Hills.

A graduate of San Jose State College in 1951, Peckham is married and the father of five children, including one set of triplets.

New assistant baseball coach is Les Hearn Jr., coming to West Valley from Contra Costa College, where he was head baseball coach this past spring.

A graduate of San Francisco State in 1967, Hearn was voted outstanding physical education major in his class. While in college he lettered in baseball for two years, led his team batting average in 1966, and lettered in football for one year.

The 26-year-old coach is currently working on his master's at San Francisco State. He is married and will soon be moving to the area from San Pablo.

John Nicholas is the new assistant football coach for the college. For the past four years he has been head football coach at Lynbrook High School in San Jose.

Other teaching and coaching experience includes two years as varsity line coach at Sikeston High School, Sikeston, Mo., and five years as assistant football coach and head track coach at Mt. Diablo High School in Concord.

Nicholas, 33, received his B.S. in 1958 from Southeast Missouri State College where he was voted the most valuable lineman award. He received his M.A. from San Francisco State in 1965.

He and his wife, Betty, have two sons, aged 6 and 8.

The basketball team will benefit from the coaching experience of Elvin "El" Brown, who will serve as assistant coach. Brown, 41, has been head basketball coach at Pacific High School in San Leandro the past eight seasons.

A graduate of Illinois State College, Brown received his master's from San Jose State.

RUNNERS-UP---Silver Coach bowed to the Optimist Club in the two-game playoff series for the Campbell city championship of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League held at Rincon Park.

Pictured are the Silver Coach players. Mike Todd is the bat boy. Front row, left to right, Tom Watson, Dave Duren, Dale Lujan, John Lupo. Back row, left to right, Tom Guardino, Felix Mincinez, Pat Van Sambeek, Mike Guina, Mark Brusaschetti and Gary Haney. Felix Mincinez was on the mound when the Silver Coachers won the first game 6-3. The second game was lost 2-0 to the Optimists.

HIGHEST AWARD---Agent Robert H. Mann receives congratulations from Campbell Chief of Police John Morgan on receiving the Peace Officers Standards and Training Certificate which is the highest award given in the training program. Mann, who has been with the Campbell police force for five years, has spent 15 years in the police enforcement work. He was formerly associated with the county sherriffs department and with the Sunnyvale police force. Mann has taken several courses in police investigation during the years and is completing his 60 units of work at West Valley College.

THREE ALL-STARS--Left to right, Dennis Rosser, Pat Van Sambeck and Gary Haney, members of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League All-Stars who played in the regional tourney in Price, Utah.

AT THE REGIONALS--Joe Gagliardi, (right) long-time coach of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League All-Stars and Jeff Mason, a member of the all-star aggregation, at Price, Utah.
